Friday, April 3, 2009
8:30 AM – 3:30 PM

Sponsored by Scottish Rite Learning Center of South Texas

About the Workshop:
This one-day seminar is specifically designed for those new to the process of dyslexia identification for English and ELL Students. The session includes a review of the definition of dyslexia, the state law and procedures for the identification and training for dyslexia, including advice on developing a battery of tests. Information will be presented on the core principles of dyslexia identification including standards of measurement, characteristic profile of dyslexia, data gathering and review of Response to Intervention (RtI) data. Interpretation of early reading assessments (TPRI), inclusion of teacher and parent observations and differential identification decision making will be included through case studies. For more information, please call Janet Flory, Director. (210) 222-0133

About the Speaker:
Janice Robson has been in public education for 27 years, and has been employed the last 15 years in Judson I.S.D. She is currently the Dyslexia Coordinator for Judson I.S.D. She received her dyslexia therapist training at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children in Dallas and became a Certified Academic Language Therapist (CALT) in May 2002. Janice continued to train at the Austin Scottish Rite Learning Center in order to become a Qualified Instructor (QI), which she completed in May 2007. Janice trains teachers to become Dyslexia Therapists at the Scottish Rite Learning Center of South Texas, as well as the Austin Scottish Rite Learning Center. In addition to her work with training teachers, she also does private dyslexia therapy.
